Rationale and key rating drivers

Reaffirmation of ratings to bank facilities of Smruthi Organics Limited (SOL) continues to derive comfort from extensive experience of promoters in the pharmaceutical industry, accredited manufacturing facilities, and comfortable capital structure and satisfactory debt coverage indicators. However, rating strengths remain tempered by moderate scale of operations, moderate profitability, product and customer concentration risk, susceptibility of operating margins to volatile raw material prices, foreign exchange rate and exposure to regulatory risk.

Rating sensitivities: Factors likely to lead to rating actions

Positive factors

- Total operating income (TOI) of more than ₹150 crore and profit before interest, lease rentals, depreciation and tax (PBILDT) margin of 10-12% on a sustained basis.
- The company's ability to reduce the therapeutic concentration risk with no segment contributing over 30% and diversifying its customer base.
- The company's ability to diversify geographically with significant revenues from regulated markets.

Negative factors

- Decline in TOI below ₹100 crore with further moderation in profitability.
- Total debt to PBILDT of over 3x on sustained basis.
- Deterioration in working capital cycle of over 140 days on a sustained basis.

Analytical approach: Standalone

Outlook: Stable

The Stable outlook reflects the company's ability to maintain its capital structure in the absence of major debt-funded capital expenditure (capex) over the near-to-medium term and will continue to benefit from extensive experience of its promoters.

Comfortable capital structure and satisfactory debt coverage indicators

The debt profile of the company comprises of term loan and working capital limits. Capital structure of the company remained comfortable marked by overall gearing at 0.24x as on March 31, 2025 (PY: 0.17x).

Debt coverage indicators also remained satisfactory marked by total debt to gross cash accruals (TD/GCA) of 1.87x in FY25 (refers to April 01 to March 31) against 1.36x for FY24. Total debt to PBILDT stood at 1.39x for FY25 against 0.99x for FY24. Interest coverage remained healthy at 6.52x in FY25 (8.56x in FY24). The moderation in debt coverage indicators was considering term debt availed for plant modernization, automation, and utility upgrades.

Key weaknessesSubdued operating performance

SOL's total operating income (TOI) has remained moderate in the range of ₹125 crore to ₹140 crore in FY21- FY25. In FY25, the company's TOI remained stagnant at ₹126.04 crore compared to ₹127.65 crore in FY24. Further, in 9MFY26 (refers to April 1 to December 31), SOL reported the TOI of ₹72.88 crore, vis-à-vis ₹87.91 crore in 9MFY25, primarily due to subdued performance in domestic market amid intense competition and continued restrictions on exports to Pakistan, which was the key market for the company.

Moderate Profitability

SOL's profitability remained moderate in FY21-FY25 with profit before interest, lease rentals, depreciation, and taxation (PBILDT) margin declining from 22.60% in FY21 to 9.68% in FY25. Further, profitability improved in 9MFY26 marked by PBILDT margin at 12.21% (8.55% in 9MFY25) considering the decline in raw material cost, process improvement across products, and better sales realisation.

Product and customer concentration Risk

SOL is primarily an API manufacturer, with APIs representing over 80% of revenue contribution and the remaining is accounted for by intermediates. The share of top two products stood at ~50% and ~54% of the revenue in FY25 and 9MFY26, each reflecting high dependence on sales from top two products Metformin and Diloxanide Furoate. The company's customer concentration continues to remain high with top 10 customers contributing ~65% of total sales in FY25 and 9MFY26.

Susceptibility of operating margins to volatile raw material prices and foreign exchange rates

The key raw materials are procured from imports and domestic market, prices of which are volatile in nature. Since raw material is the major cost driver for the company, upward movement in raw material prices, with limited increase in finished products prices in an intensely competitive industry may result in adverse performance of the company. SOL imports ~40% of its raw material from China and exports its products to several countries, such as China, Thailand, and Argentina among others, with no long-term contracts with its customers. In the absence of a hedging mechanism, although being a net exporter, the company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuation risk owing to timing differences.

Exposure to regulatory risk

The pharmaceutical industry is highly regulated and requires approvals, licenses, registrations, and permissions for business activities. Each authority has its own requirement, and they could delay or refuse grant approval, even when a product has already been approved in another country. The approval process for a new product registration is complex, lengthy, and expensive. Delays or failures in getting approval for a new product launch could adversely affect the company's business prospects. The company's ability to continue observing regulatory and CGMP standards without receiving adverse observations from regulatory authorities remains critical from a business and credit risk perspective. The company has substantial level of imports and exports to China. Hence, geopolitical issues with such countries could materially impact the company's operations.

Liquidity: Adequate

The company has adequate liquidity position characterized by sufficient cushion between net cash accruals against scheduled debt repayment obligations. With a gearing of 0.24x as on March 31, 2025, the company has sufficient headroom to raise additional debt. Its unutilized bank lines are adequate to meet its incremental working capital needs over the next one year as bank limits are utilized to the extent of ~25% in the 12 months ended December 31, 2025. Cashflow from operating activities remained at ₹10.29 crore in FY25 (₹4.26 crore in FY24).
