Detailed Rationale and Key Rating Drivers

The revision in rating assigned to bank facilities of Nilachal Carbo Metalicks Private Limited takes into account of the weak liquidity position leading to delay in servicing of debt obligation availed by the company. The rating continue to be constrained by small scale of operation, weak financial risk profile, profitability susceptible to volatility in raw material prices and forex fluctuations, working capital intensive nature of operation and cyclical nature associated with the steel industry.

The ratings are however; derive strength from long experience of the promoter in coal and coke industry, diversified application of its product with close linkages with steel sector, favourable location of the plant with close proximity to Paradip port. Going forward, the ability of the company to increase its scale of operation while maintaining profitability margin and ability to maintain capital structure will continues to remain the key rating sensitivities.

Detailed description of the key rating driversKey Rating WeaknessOngoing delay in servicing of term loan obligation

Based on interaction with one of the lenders, there are ongoing delays in servicing of debt obligation.

Weak financial risk profile

The total operating income of the company has remained erratic over the last 4 years. In FY16 (refers to the period April 1 to March 31) the total operating income declined by 31.37% from FY15 levels on account of cessation of one of the large contracts due to which the company also incurred losses. Thereafter the turnover witnessed continued improvement since FY17 due to volume growth. The company reported a loss at PBILDT level and extraordinary loss of Rs.33 crore mainly on account of cessation of one of the contract which resulted in write off of slow/non-moving inventory. Due to high losses, the company's networth was eroded and it was unable to service the debt obligation on time and the account was classified NPA by SBI in March 2016. In March 2018, the company has done an OTS with SBI by virtue of which its debt of Rs.65 crore has been settled for Rs.26.5 crore and the same has to be paid off by March 2019 resulting in weak debt protection metrics.

Small scale of operation

With an installed capacity of 72,000 MTPA NCMPL is relatively small player. With its small size, the company does not get benefit from economies of scale and during financial stress it may impact the business as compared to large players in same industry.

Volatility in the prices of raw material and finished goods

The coking coal prices are highly volatile in nature due to commodity nature of product, whose prices are determined based on global demand supply. Given that any sharp decline in raw-material prices needs to be immediately passed on to consumers whereas any sharp increase in finished goods prices are passed to the consumers with a certain time lag, the profitability of the company is susceptible to fluctuation in raw-material prices.

Customer concentration risk

Majority of the revenue for the company is derived from few players in FY18, NCMPL derived around 98% of its revenue from top 5 customers and around 68% in FY17, which shows indicates customer concentration risk.

Cyclical nature of steel industry

NCMPL is in the business of manufacturing and trading of LAM coke which is required in the manufacturing of steel products like pig iron, ferro alloys metals etc. so there is a high degree of dependence on the fortunes of the steel industry, which is cyclical in nature.

Key Rating Strength

Considerable experience of the promoters in coke industry

Nilachal Carbo Metalicks Private Limited (NCMPL) commenced its operation in 2003 under Dr. B D Chatterjee along with Mr. Bibhudatta Panda. Subsequently the entire stake was bought by Mr. Panda. Mr. B .D Panda, started his career as a trader of imported minerals and coal before venturing into LAM coke manufacturing and having 27 years of overall experience.

Strategic location of the plant

Company imports its cooking coal from Australia and its manufacturing unit is located at Chadeidhara (Kalinganagar) Odisha near to Paradip port which reduces the transportation cost.

Diversified application of NCMPL's product with close linkages with steel sector

LAM coke is used in the production of steel and ferro alloy. It is also used as a fuel for various iron/steel foundries for lead smelting, non-ferrous metal casting etc. Further it is also used by secondary steel producers, chemical plants and pig iron producers.
