

BloombergQuint ✓

@BloombergQuint

The RBI's liquidity window for health services to help larger players, says CARE Ratings.

Read more: bit.ly/3xNagRu

The term liquidity facility is similar to the on tap TLTRO that was announced the last year but this time it is focused on emergency health infrastructure and services. There is no distinction between large and small borrowers on the basis of size. But, drawing by last years example, smaller borrowers may not have strong banking relations or strong banking channels. As such, initially at least, the scheme will benefit larger companies early and then benefit smaller pharmacies, suppliers and others.

Sachin Gupta

Chief Rating Officer, CARE Ratings

Bloomberg | Quint